PUBLIC RIGHTS IN PARKS.

A public scandal has been caused by the presence of the pay benches in the parks, which must be abated without delay. It is intolerable that disorderly crowds should be constantly causing such riotous scenes as have been witnessed in Madison square every day of late. It is evident that the public will not sustain the policy of charging people for the right to occupy seats in the parks under any such system as that which has been attempted and that the park commissioner will have to abandon the scheme. Mr. Clausen makes a great mistake in obstinately sticking to the blunder which he has made. N. Y. Post.

It is not the business of the police to help Mr. Spate to collect his nickels or to keep obtrusive people out of his chairs, but it is their business to preserve order in the parks. Anyone who interferes violently with Spate's property or attacks his employees deserves to be arrested, and riotous crowds should be dispersed. If Chausen had foreseen the effect he would have produced on the public mind, he would at least have done something to ascertain public sentiment and popular wishes before adopting this foreign innovation. As it is, he has created a nuisance which must be suppressed. The spirit of independence and equality cannot be permitted to express itself in riot.—N. Y. Mail and Express.

The only point made in favor of the Clausen-Spate scheme is that it provides separate seats in which visitors to the parks may have privacy. A good point. But why does Clausen not provide free chairs out of the money the city has given him? Why does he insist on buying only benches—"settees" as he calls them? Obviously because free chairs would take away the one, the flimsy, Clausenish pretext for friend Spate.—N. Y. World.

If by any chance you think that Clausen's appearance and intelligence would be improved by a thin coating of tar and feathers, tell him that. He says he will stop renting chairs on the public lawns as soon as he finds out that the people do not approve of him. If you, Mr. Reader, do not approve of him, it is your duty to tell him so, as plainly and as eloquently as you can.—N. Y. Journal.

The Talk of the Day

A woman of New Britain, Conn., who is a Christian Scientist, maintains that mosquitoes have brains and reasoning powers, that it is "outrageous" to kill the "little harmless insects," and that all that is necessary is to reason with them. She says:

"If a mosquito is troubling you just speak to him kindly and say, 'Look here, my friend, you have me alone and I'll leave you alone.' Then believe that he won't bite you! Even if he does his sting won't hurt. I have done this for years and now enjoy having the pretty little things around and listening to their musical buzz."

"What a fine bouncing baby boy!" Cried the visitors, with delight. But Willie dropped it on the floor. And it didn't bounce a mite.

Jim John Rippertoe was born poor on a Kansas farm. When his education was finished in the country school he decided that he didn't know much, and so he worked his way through a high school. Finding that his knowledge was still defective, he became a teacher in an academy studying at night. After about two years he felt less sure than ever that he knew anything worth while, and so he worked his way through Stanford university, afterward becoming superintendent of the Vallejo school at a salary of $2,400 a year. This would have satisfied most young men under the circumstances, but Jim John Rippertoe was still scourged with the "divine discontent," and he has now entered his name as a student in Johns Hopkins university, with the promise of a professorship in Stanford after he is graduated. With the domain of knowledge finally conquered, approximately, of course, and the lucky accident of his peculiar name, the future holds out great possibilities for this typical western American lad.

An Indianapolis woman called up her grocer by telephone the other morning and, after she had sufficiently scolded the man who responded, said:

"And what's more, the next order you'll get from me will be the last I'll ever give you."

"It probably will, madam," said the voice at the other end of the wire; "you are talking to an undertaker."—Indianapolis News.

How a Wealthy Missouri Farmer Won His Bride.

Dixon, Mo., July 20.—Cupid is aboard of the Priceo excursion train to St. Louis tonight. The arrival of the train in the world's fair city tomorrow morning will witness the happy ending of a romance of the matrimonial bureau sort, if nothing goes awry. Among the passengers who boarded the train tonight at Hancock, Pulaski county, were Joseph Barnhart, a widower and prosperous farmer of Cole county, Mo., and Miss Lizzie Johnson, a spinster of Pulaski county. They met for the first time today and it was a case of love at first sight. The couple tried hard to keep the affair a secret until after the wedding, but some one let the story out and before the train reached Dixon the pair of lovers were the target for a motley group of curious eyes. A few months ago Mr. Barnhart advertised for a wife, and Miss Johnson replied. They exchanged photographs and became engaged by mail. Today they met, ratified the agreement to be one, and will carry the plans to a successful conclusion in St. Louis tomorrow.

Summer complaint is usually prevalent among children this season. A well developed case in the writer's family was cured last week by the timely use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy—one of the best patent medicines manufactured and which is always kept on hand at the home of every family. This is not intended as a free puff for the company, who do not advertise with us, but to benefit little sufferers who may not be within easy access of a physician. No family should be without a bottle of this medicine in the house, especially in summer-time.—Lansing, Iowa, Journal. For sale by Ely & Hulet.

LIVED IN THREE CENTURIES.

Romance of an African One Hundred and Three Years Old.

Dublin, Ind., July 20.—Geo. Hammell, of Brownstown has lived in three centuries. He is 103 years old and spent many years in the search for his sweetheart. He was born in Alsace, Germany, and was once chief gardener in one of Germany's royal parks. Hammell one day met a girl with whom he became infatuated. Her parents removed to a foreign land and the lovers were separated. Hammell traveled over Europe, Asia and Africa, but could find no trace of his German sweetheart. He turned toward America and found her in Ohio, the wife of another and the mother of several children. Hammell waited until the husband died and then married the widow.

In the codicil to his will Admiral Sir John Comberford, V. C., who died in England on May 21 last, added, "Having had fatal experience in the inquiry of the law in certain cases, when decisions have been given against common sense and justice, I entreat the parties interested in my will not to appeal to the law if any difficulty may arise, but to arbitrate. Having been swindled by every lawyer that I ever had anything to do with makes me offer this advice to my heirs, executors and assigns."

Dr. Hibbard GRADUATE OF HARVARD MEDICAL COLLEGE, United States Pension Examiner, and Licentiate Specialist in chronic and difficult cases. Blood, Skin, Kidney, Urinary, Bladder, Private and Sexual Diseases, Seminal Weakness with exhausted vitality permanently cured. Cancers and external growths removed without the knife or severe measures. The reason of Dr. Hibbard's remarkable success is due to his long experience and exceptional ability in treating complicated and intricate diseases. Place your case in his hands and be dealt with honestly and scientifically. Remember he devotes his entire time and study to chronic diseases. If possible Always be examined by an Expert. If unable to call write freely and confidentially. Many cases yield to one treatment. References: All the Banks, and prominent business men of the city. One consultation, in person or by letter, free. Hours: 10 to 12, 1 to 3, and 6 to 7. Office and Laboratory, 25-28 S. Second Avenue, Hibbard Building, Phoenix, Arizona.

Cancers and Tumors Cured WITHOUT THE KNIFE DR. HIBBARD removes external growths by local medication. His method is safe, sure and successful. Numerous testimonials and specimens removed can be seen at office. The doctor makes a specialty of chronic diseases and removal of abnormal growths. The knife is a failure in a large percent of cases. Dr. Hibbard's method is a success. His system is rational and scientific. Thousands die annually in the United States because physicians as a rule do not understand the disease. They call it incurable and if they do anything they resort to the knife. There is a remedy, a treatment without severe measures and a method whereby Cancer can be cured, and with little pain and complete safety. Do not be deceived. If you have a growth no matter how small whether painful or not, if suspicious and should be immediately removed before it is too late. Judge the doctor by the cures he makes. The ordinary doctor tries to do too much. He weakens his faculties and becomes proficient in no particular branch. The lack of all traces he is master. Some of the skill, experience and scientific ability of Dr. Hibbard are unquestioned, besides he does by others he would like to be done by. Consultation free. Call or address Hibbard building, 25-28 South Second Avenue, Phoenix, Arizona. Hours 10-12 1-3 6-7.

The Reputation of Dr. Hibbard as an Educated and Successful Specialist is thoroughly established. His reliability, fair dealing, skill and progressive views are fully acknowledged. Don't Experiment. Make no mistake. Get the best treatment. Dr. Hibbard succeeds in cases that baffle the ordinary physician. Don't fool with electric belts or treatment by sample or trial packages. Show electro-medical devices, etc. Do not indulge in such misleading propositions. If you do your condition will be worse instead of better. I treat each case by itself, not by a job lot system—Eras accurately ascertaining the disease with all its complications, then applying the most effective remedies. If your case is incurable you will be told so. If curable, science, skill and experience will insure your recovery. Make a Specialty of Sexual Physiology. Thousands of comparatively young men are broken down by Physical Weakness and Decay. Such cases can be cured. The general practitioner, however, utterly fails. He lacks concentration of faculties and can not accomplish what the skillful specialist can. Blood Poison with syphilitic conditions, bringing with it all that is destructive to the human system, can be cured without injurious drugs. My method is that of the best Europe; marked results are seen in a few days. The blood, animal tissues and flesh are restored. Eruptions, ulcerations, etc. rapidly disappear. Marked results are seen like a new man. Danger is ahead if you neglect scientific special treatment. The longer you wait the more doubtful your case becomes, until at last you become physically wrecked. Home Treatment may be had in some cases, though it is generally best to have at least a single personal interview. When you can not, every detail will be carefully looked into. Consultation strictly confidential and free. All medicines will be sent according to directions. Address communications to Hibbard building, Phoenix, Arizona.
